Saying Goodbye

A few weeks ago we had to say our final goodbye to our beloved 16 year-old Harrier, Happy. She had bladder cancer. Several lessons emerge as I reflect upon the joy she brought to our lives.

1) Happy found contentment when Erney and I were both with her, whether at home or traveling. She reveled being in the presence of her 'masters'. Like Happy, we can only find true contentment in the presence of our Master, Jesus. He brings a peace that passes all understanding.

2) Because we had Happy in our life, we better understand the 'Hound of Heaven' concept. Some may remember Elder HMS Richards talking about Jesus being the "Hound of Heaven," seeking His lost sheep until He has found them. If Happy came in from outside and sensed we were home, she would immediately race through the house looking for us until she found us. If one was in the bedroom, she would meet, greet, and immediately leave to go and find the other. After finding us both she would then joyfully bark, whimper, and make puppy dog noises to let us know she was delighted we were home.

3) Over the course of our lives I've said, "If I only knew the end from the beginning, it would be so much easier." However, we have found that statement far from the truth. When we learned Happy had bladder cancer and her life would be ending very soon, our spirits were crushed. It wasn't wonderful to know the end. It was torture every day, wondering 'how much longer?' It reminded us that Jesus told his disciples, "I can't tell you now for you could not bear it" (John 16:12). We have found again through this experience with Happy that our Heavenly Father always knows best! His plans are best for our lives, and it is best that we live one day at a time rather than knowing the future. Even if we know how The Great Controversy concludes, we are spared the day-to-day details. Truly, our Father knows best.

Writing this article is bittersweet not only because we have lost our pup, but we are now saying goodbye to our treasured Hoosier friends. The Lake Union Conference team has invited me to be their Executive Secretary.

Almost ten years ago we moved to Indiana. What a privilege it has been for Erney and me to work with our pastors and spouses! A better group of workers would be hard to find. Erney has also enjoyed the camaraderie of the ladies—many of you have become heart friends.

We will miss the fellowship in your churches and schools. We will miss our chats on the sidewalk, at the ABC, or in the gym at camp meeting. I will miss the counsel of our Executive Committee, Board of Education, and other committees! Each of you has left an indelible mark on our lives. Erney and I will take large portions of Indiana with us as we depart to Michigan. The memories made on our pastor reformation tour to Germany in 2009 will be forever in our hearts. We take comfort in knowing that Indiana is the crossroads of America, and since we will be in the Lake Union, our paths will cross from time to time.

It has been a joy to serve alongside our conference team and lay people while president of this conference. God has called each of us to disciple others for Him. I challenge each of you to find your niche in the Big 5+ initiative that we have embarked upon and spread the message of Jesus' life, death, Indiana Academy is striving to create an environment that empowers students to apply the things they are being taught, both academically and spiritually. Although we are an educational institution, our mission and purpose is to do more than academically prepare students for worldly success. Likewise, although we are a Seventh-day Adventist institution, our mission does not stop at introducing young people to gospel truths. Additionally, as a boarding institution, our mission is not to merely provide young people with “fun” alternatives to worldly entertainments. Instead, it is the mission of Indiana Academy to educate the whole student for service to God and community.

This mission encompasses the wide range of critically interwoven components: Faith, Knowledge, and Service – none of which can reach its full effectiveness without the others. This framework includes a vibrant, engaging, spiritually growing campus, rooted in scripture and the Seventh-day Adventist Church. It includes a practically applicable academic program that promotes both critical and original thinking in our students to prepare them for future academic successes. Our program must involve a commitment to equipping our students with a passion for serving our greater community through acts of Christian service, while also providing our students with the resources and opportunities they need to reach their fullest potential as Christian young people. It is our belief that strategic growth in each of these areas, Faith – Knowledge – Service, is essential to the long-term viability of the program at Indiana Academy, and ultimately to meeting our call as a Seventh-day Adventist educational institution. These core principles are to serve as the guiding framework for Indiana Academy’s strategic growth and planning as we go forward as a school.

Indiana Academy has been playing an influential role in leading young people to Christ and the Seventh-day Adventist message for more than 115 years, but it cannot be taken for granted that these goals are accidentally achieved. Christ has entrusted the administration, faculty, and staff of Indiana Academy with the responsibility of being stewards of His school for the time He has determined. Much like the faithful servants in the Parable of the Talents, it is our responsibility to cultivate that with which we have been entrusted, be it facilities, finances, time, or students. We then must be purposeful in our intent, committed in our convictions, and always seeking the “still small voice” of God to guide our steps.

ALWAYS MOVING TOWARD SOMETHING BETTER

My name is Jillian, and I am a senior at Indiana Academy. I grew up in a family that knew the importance of a Seventh-day Adventist Christian education. Even though it wasn't always easy for my parents to afford it, we were always in SDA schools. When I was about ten, my parents got divorced and my mom was on her own. She knew that no matter what, she wanted her children to go to Adventist schools.

When I graduated from 8th grade it was time for my older sister and I to move on to one of the academies, so we decided that Indiana Academy was the place for us. I was so excited to be at this school and looked forward to being a four-year senior. That year I was a freshman and my sister a junior. We had a blast! When summer came my mom sat us down and told us that there would be no way that she would be able to send both of us to Indiana Academy the following year. It was then that we had to decide which of us would return to IA and who would go to public school. At that point, my sister had already gone to three different high schools, so I decided that I would let her return to Indiana Academy, and I would go to the public high school.

Throughout the summer I was praying that God would provide a miracle because I desperately wanted to go back to Indiana Academy. It came time for the school year to start, and I was terrified for two reasons: 1) the public school was the largest school I had ever been to, and 2) even on my first day there were already people wanting to influence me to change my values. It just so happened that the public school started a few days before Indiana Academy, so I continued to pray for a miracle and for something, anything, to work out.

On the Friday before dorm registration, three days before Indiana Academy started classes, my mom got a phone call. It was Ms. Coupland, the Indiana Academy business manager, saying that my prayers had been answered. She told my mom that there was an anonymous donor who was willing to pay for my tuition if I wanted to return to Indiana Academy. By the time things were settled, I had two hours to pack and make it in time for registration. This was a huge answer to our prayers. Not only did I get to attend Indiana Academy with my sister for her senior year, but now as I am approaching my own graduation in May, I have realized that because God answered my prayer, I have been able to learn and grow in ways that would not have been possible had I not returned to Indiana Academy. To whoever my sponsor is, if you are reading this, thank you so very much for being an answer to prayer!

WHEN WAS THE LAST TIME YOU VISITED INDIANA ACADEMY?

When I came back 'home' to Indiana Academy as principal in 2013, it had been 15 years since I'd graduated in 1998. While I appreciated the initial flood of nostalgia as I walked down the hallway, I started to realize that, structurally speaking, not a lot had changed. The things that were old when I was a student were even older now that I was principal. As various stakeholders discussed what type of education and program we wanted to offer the constituents of the Indiana Conference, it was clear that the outdated science lab equipment, torn carpet, and rundown dormitories were not contributing to a positive learning environment. It is critically important to appreciate that it is, and always has been, the people that fill the hallways, not the hallways themselves, that make Indiana Academy such a special place. Nevertheless, thanks to the sacrificial giving of the Indiana Conference and its constituents, as well as plenty of hardworking staff and volunteers, it is exciting to walk the halls of our "dear old IA" and recognize the long overdue improvements that have been made. These improvements will allow Indiana Academy to continue to be a vibrant training ground for young adults to grow in Christ as they prepare for a lifetime of mission-minded service. If it's been a while since you've been on campus, I encourage and invite you to come and pay us a visit. Maybe you'll be inspired to contribute to the continued goal of taking the Next Step here at Indiana Academy, too!

IGNITE INDIANA officially became a reality on February 17. It was a day not to be forgotten as the Holy Spirit filled the hearts of the people who came to hear the Word of God spoken by Pastor John Bradshaw at the Glendale Church.

The It is Written Rally saw members attend from various churches across the state. The goal was to IGNITE our constituents with a personal desire for evangelism and outreach. No one should have left this rally and not felt as though they needed to engage in evangelism to help save the lost. Think about those in your own backyard. What about your friends and co-workers?

Besides the lovely music and inspiring testimonies, Pastor Bradshaw preached a powerful message. He was full of energy and enthusiasm as he set out to motivate and inspire us in the cause of personal evangelism. "When do you think you might leave today?" he kidded, "It probably won't be when you think! What else do you have to do until the sun goes down?" Motivating and encouraging members to exercise their latent evangelism skills might seem like a tall order, but the Holy Spirit was moving upon hearts. Scriptural references, personal stories and metaphors, along with some light humor, were the order of the day as Pastor Bradshaw endeavored to convince us to get involved. He emphasized that forging friendships and mingling with those in your circle of influence is a great place to begin.

"It's too late in earth's history to be spectators," he conveyed. "The job is vast; raise up an army." Being convinced to stop being a pew warmer and take on the thrilling task of evangelism is what we want each member to do. But we aren't throwing you to the wolves. That's where training comes in.

There is a way to become confident in spreading God's truth. Each church has been given training dates for the sole purpose of acquiring the tools needed to get involved in this great movement. Pastor Bradshaw said to "Lean on the Lord and expect that God will take the gospel to the world." And if you are feeling inadequate, consider a couple more of his quotes:

"You plus God = invincible!"

"If God calls you to climb out of the boat, you will walk on water."

"God is not asking for us to be successful but to be faithful."

Our prayer is that this rally marks the beginning of a mighty movement that will continue until Christ comes back. No doubt there is much happening in our world today. God longs to share His love and grace to a dying world. Presently, there are over 6.6 million people who live in the state of Indiana. How will they be reached? Simply put, through God's people- you and me. We are so fortunate to know the truths of scripture and live a better, more hopeful life. Yet, we are not to hide the good news under a bushel. These truths must be shared with others.

During these next two years plan to join the Ignite Indiana efforts as we prepare for a great harvest in the spring of 2020. We want to see our churches revitalized and equipped for mission. At the same time, we want to see them filled with new members who are actively involved in God's work. There are many people looking for hope and truth, and we must find them.*

STATE OF THE CONFERENCE

*by Mark Eaton
Indiana Conference
Secretary/Treasurer*

Article II, Section 3 of the U.S. Constitution states that the president must “from time to time give to the Congress Information of the State of the Union, and recommend to their consideration such measures as he shall judge necessary and expedient.”

There is no such requirement in the Indiana Conference constitution for the conference president to render such a report on the state of the conference, yet as secretary-treasurer I am often asked to give a report on the financial state of the conference.

Let me be clear. The financial state of the conference is good. The financial reserves of the conference are adequate with 147% of the working capital required by North American Division working policy (100% is the required minimum). The Indiana Conference has no debt and, to my knowledge, has never had to borrow funds to make payroll, as is the case with some conferences.

Having said that, conference finances are tight—very tight. Why is that? Let me explain.

Tithe income for the Indiana Conference in 2017 was $8,994,714. That is an increase of only $1,859 over the tithe income of $8,992,855 in 2016. In percentage terms that is an increase of 0.02%. Not 2%. Not 2 tenths of a percent, but 2 one-hundredths of a percent.

Have expenses increased more than that? Absolutely. Much more. Wages increased a full one percent in 2017. Insurance costs increased 6%. And the Affordable Care Act increased health care costs over 50%!!

What happens to your own budget when your expenses increase but your income does not? You have to reduce or eliminate some items from your budget. You cannot continue to spend as much as you have in the past. So you try to reduce or eliminate items that are non-essential. Maybe you eat out less, travel less, shorten your vacations, find a cheaper cell phone service, or delay purchasing a new car.

The same is true for the conference. When expenses rise faster than income, we must find ways to reduce expenses. It is not easy because so many expenses come from programs that are essential to our mission—evangelism, youth camp, camp meeting, Indiana Academy, church schools, pastors, teachers.

One of the most difficult tasks I have as treasurer is to say no to urgent requests for more pastors, teachers, Bible workers, office help.

Please pray for God’s work in Indiana. The needs are far greater than our resources. I am sure the same is true at your local church. Let us never forget, however, that we serve a mighty God who owns the cattle on a thousand hills. He will multiply our resources as we follow His leading.

KAREN SHINN RETIRES IN MAY

Karen Shinn, teacher at the Terre Haute Adventist School, will retire at the conclusion of this school year. The oldest of six children, Karen's parents sacrificed to see that their family benefited from an Adventist education. Beginning with the inspiration of her first grade teacher, Karen fell in love with school and knew early on that she would become a teacher.

After graduating from Southwestern Adventist University in 1974 and marrying her husband, Michael, four days later the newlyweds moved to Fort Smith, Arkansas, to begin Karen's first teaching assignment. Since that time, she has taught in twelve different states, including the last nine years at Terre Haute Adventist School.

Upon leaving each school where she has taught, Karen's final invitation to her students has always been to meet her at heaven's southwestern gate – a tribute to her alma mater. She is looking forward to many joyful reunions!

At this time, the Shinns plan to remain in Terre Haute, as Michael is the station manager for WYLJ, the Terre Haute radio station linked with Three Angels Broadcasting Network.

Posters and bulletin inserts have been created and distributed to schools and churches showcasing the Encounter Bible Curriculum that is new in Adventist schools this year.

TRC MIRACLE

by Charlie Thompson
Indiana Conference Youth Director

For the past three summers the Brownsburg Church, with support from its sister church, Chapel West, has invested heavily in young people and the mission of Timber Ridge Camp (TRC). Each year they have set aside funds so that as many as seventy campers, many who are from inner-city Indianapolis, can attend a week of summer camp.

Three years ago, Adam* was sponsored by the Brownsburg/Chapel West churches to attend. When he arrived at TRC, he missed his video games, TV, and the food he ate at home. We called Adam's parents; he told them he wanted to go home. Their response was, "No, you need to be at camp." The staff spent the rest of the week praying for Adam and trying to help him enjoy his stay.

Sunday came and as soon as Adam got home, he found our Timber Ridge Camp Facebook page and gave us a 1 out of 5 star rating. His review said, "Camp is boring." Surprisingly, this past summer he came back again for another week of camp. At our morning flag raising ceremony, I recognized Adam. I told him I remembered him and his Facebook rating from his first summer. He smiled, and we spent the rest of the week bantering about his review, and, yes, I was checking on him to see if he was having a good time!!

Friday night is when the miracle happened. As we always do every Friday night during campfire, we gave our campers the opportunity to give their hearts to Jesus. Amazingly, Adam came forward! What a joy it was to see his smiling face as he accepted Jesus as his personal Savior! Sunday when he got home, he updated his Facebook rating from 1 star to a 5 star.

Every time we reach out to children, Jesus is watching and waiting to step in and touch their lives. This is the heart of what we do at Timber Ridge Camp. Thank you for all your prayers and financial support. We look forward to seeing our campers this summer, and to witnessing more TRC miracles!
